3rd International Symposium on Lipid Oxidation and Antioxidants

10 – 12 June 2020 • Vigo • Spain

Hosted by

Universida de Vigo

Dear Colleagues,

It is our pleasure to be hosting the 3rd International Symposium on Lipid Oxidation and Antioxidants (ISLOA) organized by Euro Fed Lipid, which will be held in Vigo, Spain, from 10-12 June 2020. Lipid oxidation and its control by antioxidants has been analyzed and investigated for years. The topic is fascinating and highly dynamic, and presentation of recent work in the field – we do hope you can come and share yours with all of us – will provide a state-of-the-art knowledge that will make the meeting a great opportunity that you should not miss for discussion of theoretical and practical aspects of both lipid oxidation and its control in different environments, creating an atmosphere that will provide new ideas and research strategies.

In attempting to provide an appropriate environment for showing the progress, exchanging ideas, establishing new collaborations, and try to solve common problems and challenges, the congress will cover, among others, the following topics

- Antioxidant and lipid oxidation evaluation methods
- Elucidation of lipid oxidation and antioxidant mechanisms
- Lipid oxidation in multiphase and complex systems
- Control of lipid oxidation
- Protein and lipid co-oxidation
- Oxidative stress and human health
- Nutritional and physiological effects of oxidized lipids and antioxidants
- Design, sourcing and applications of plant and marine antioxidants

The symposium will be hosted by the University of Vigo, a very dynamic University with three campuses and more than 22000 students from all around the world. Vigo is the most important city in the northwest of Spain, pretty close to the Portuguese border. Vigo is a unique city with a perfect blend of a traditional and historic location with an active city, beaches and mountains, industry and innovation. The modern Vigo's Airport (VGO), located 15 km away from Vigo, is connected with Madrid, Barcelona and other important cities in Spain. Vigo's urban area is built over both a hill-fort ("castro") and a Roman settlement and has been given the nickname "ciudad olívica" (city of olives). Vigo's one mile route across the streets of the Old Town, will allow you to discover that the center of Vigo hides a past carved in numerous stone buildings and will help you experience the city's history on foot. The Vigo estuary is the city's real treasure: its origin, its engine, its past and its future. Of all the Galician estuaries, ours is the one furthest south of the Rías Baixas and it enters the earth to mix with the river's water, while the sides of the valley rise to form mountains on the coast's edge, drawing a myriad of incomparable outlines. The Vigo estuary is protected by the Cíes Islands, a nature park in the middle of the Atlantic and a gateway to the Vigo estuary from the open sea. This is our natural paradise, the sea of Vigo, with its calm waters and exceptionally rich marine life. Nearby cities include Santiago de Compostela, the major pilgrim's center of West Europe.

We look forward to welcoming you to Vigo for the exciting 3rd International Symposium on Lipid Oxidation and Antioxidants from 10-12 June 2020.
